Seattleites Deny Knocking Island

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Vancouver Sun in a special dispatch from Seattle today said that Seattle hotel and restaurant operators denied reports that they have been telling tourists to stay off Vancouver Island because of bad road conditions and lack of accommodation.

"When folks ask us where they should go for a trip we recommend Vancouver and Vancouver Island," said Ervin Switzer, manager of one of Seattle's largest restaurants.

Criticize British Cut In Newsprint

LONDON (CP) — Opposition to government proposals to cut imports of North American newsprint as a dollar-saving measure was expressed today by the Newsprint Supply Company, responsible for arranging the newsprint consumption program in the United Kingdom.

In a lengthy statement, the company said that while it was willing to order newspapers to reduce consumption, it felt shipments already contracted for from Canadian and Newfoundland suppliers should be accepted and used to build up stocks in this country. It was negotiating with the government to see if this could be arranged.

Redistribution Plans Attacked In Parliament

OTTAWA (CP) — Continuation of Halifax as a dual riding was recommended by the government today as State Secretary Gibson launched Commons study of a bill to raise its number of seats from 245 to 255.

Mr. Gibson, speaking as the House went into committee of the whole for a clause-by-clause study, said, "strong representations" had arisen in Halifax over a special committee's recommendation that it be split into two ridings. He said the government backed a motion to continue it as one of two dual ridings in Canada.

By provinces, redistribution would make these changes, with current totals in brackets: Ontario 83 (82); Quebec 73 (65); Nova Scotia 13 (12); New Brunswick 10 (10); Prince Edward Island 4 (4); Manitoba 16 (17); British Columbia 18 (16); Saskatchewan 20 (21); Alberta 17 (17); Yukon 1 (1).

Mr. Gibson argued the alterations were "necessary, due to changed conditions and to carry out the spirit of the British North America Act."

Howard Green, P.C., Vancouver South, said the proposed boundaries of Vancouver-Quadra, a new riding, had been arranged "for political purposes in the vain hope of building up government support in the new Vancouver South."

Mr. Green said the changes in Kamloops riding had been made principally for "political purposes" and were aimed directly against E. D. Fulton, the present member.

Mr. Green then turned to Lake Centre, the Saskatchewan riding now held by John Diefenbaker, Progressive Conservative, and charged that his seat was being thrown to the C.C.F.

In Manitoba, the Neepawa seat of John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, was being eliminated entirely. The government was trying to "Jerry-mander" Mr. Bracken out of office.

Another 3,000 In Athens Arrested In Raids On Reds

ATHENS (AP) — Reinforced guerrilla units numbering approximately 2,500 are advancing on Ioannina and a battle may take place north of that city some time tonight, a Greek cabinet minister said.

He said the guerrilla reinforcements came from Albania. Although the military command was quoted as saying fighting in northern Greece was "going well for us," the minister described the situation as "serious."

Meanwhile, police here today arrested another 3,000 people, many of them technicians in the telephone, electricity and water supply services, in a new swoop on Greek left-wing supporters.

These were charged with planning sabotage in the Greek capital. It was stated in government quarters that the arrested men belonged to the "reserve ranks" of E.L.A.S. (wartime left-wing resistance movement).

The latest arrests brought to more than 4,000 the number of Greek Communists and left-wing sympathizers arrested since last Wednesday.

Greek army reinforcements are at Ioannina, 25 miles south of Konitsa, and are being deployed into positions to meet the "invaders," he added. He said the clash was expected at a point called Kalapki.

Earlier Greek officials reported that a 1,000-man force which attacked the village of Konitsa Sunday had been pushed back six miles to the Albanian border.

The guerrilla ring around Konitsa apparently was broken Sunday night, Greek veterans of the Balkans.

3 Pickets Wounded In Honolulu Strike

HONOLULU (AP) — Police reported that three striking pickets on a pineapple plantation were wounded by a shotgun blast today at the village of Wahiawa.

The Hawaii Employers' Council said it had received a report from the manager of the California Packing Corp. plantation that a field supervisor had fired from a window of his home when pickets began throwing rocks at the house.

Ninety-six pickets were arrested in the Wahiawa area Sunday on charges of obstructing the highway.

Asks Britain Seek Release From Debt

LONDON (Reuter) — A motion asking the British government to appeal to the United States for release from the obligations of the Anglo-American financial agreement which prevent expansion of Commonwealth trade was tabled in the House of Commons today by two Conservative members of Parliament — Robert Boothby and Christopher Hollis.

Last week, in reply to a similar question, a spokesman made clear that the government did not plan to approach the United States about this while the Marshall Plan for aid to Europe still hung in the balance.

Faces Certain Veto

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed the $4,000,000,000 income tax reduction bill today, sending it to the White House, where a certain veto awaits it.

Earlier, the Senate had rejected a proposal to amend the bill by permitting husbands' and wives in all states to split their incomes for tax purposes.

Active Sportsman, George Beck, Dies After Long Illness

George Albert Beck, 65, advertising salesman with the Victoria Daily Times from 1922 to 1945 and well-known figure in Victoria and island sporting circles, died Sunday at his home, 1311 Minto Street.

Mr. Beck had been in poor health since 1945 when he was forced to leave the Times staff because of illness.

A native of Toronto, Mr. Beck came to Victoria in 1909 from California. Before joining the Times staff he was a professional boxer and had been apprenticed as a plumber.

He leaves his wife, Fannie Beatrice, and one son, George Wilson, both in Victoria.

Christian Science funeral rites will be conducted from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel at 1:30 Tuesday afternoon followed by cremation.

From 1917 to 1921 Mr. Beck managed Yarrow's baseball team which one year won the city championship. He was a charter member of the Victoria Branch of the Native Sons of Canada, a president of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association, and the Vancouver Island Fish and Game Protective Association and fathered the provincial wide organization.

Active in the Junior Chamber of Commerce here from 1922 to 1944, he served a term as president and also served on the executive of that organization for a number of years. During the war, with Gordon Sward and Charlie Burr, he helped organize Company 1 of the Pacific Coast Militia Rangers.

Constables Hurt In Stampede Riot

CALGARY (CP)—Police constables Ken Evans and Roy Bota, victims of a mob attack at the fair grounds shortly after midnight Saturday, and three men alleged to have been among the leaders of the riot, were being treated in hospital today for injuries received in the first wholesale outbreak of violence never to occur at the Calgary Exhibition and Stampede.

Five other men, charged with inciting a riot, were being held in city police cells without bail, pending reports on the condition of the two police officers.

The riot started as Bota and Evans, on duty at the exhibition grounds, separated two men fighting in the midway just across from the police station on the grounds. As the policemen led the two fighters away from the main highway crowd, they were accosted by some of the men's friends. Although police had no intention of arresting the pair and were only separating them, the other men thought differently.

A struggle between the policemen and the would-be rescuers ensued. Others in the crowd joined in and the policemen were severely pummeled before reinforcements arrived to break it up and arrest the leaders.

Around World In Light Planes

George W. Truman, left, above, of Los Angeles, and Clifford V. Evans of Washington, D.C., are pictured charting the 21,370-mile 'round-the-world' flight they plan to make in two Piper Cub cruisers. It will be the first globe-girdling light plane flight in history. The little, single-engine 100-horsepower planes carry 138 gallons of gas and have a range of 2,600 miles. Truman and Evans expect to take off from New York next Friday.

Veiled Move By Soviet To Force Atom Weapon Destruction Fails

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—A veiled move by Russia to get the United Nations to endorse the immediate destruction of all atomic weapons appeared headed for defeat today in the Atomic Energy Commission.

U.S. sources said the Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, Andrei A. Gromyko, was attempting to override a United States plan, already agreed to by all except Russia and Poland, which calls for disposal of the bombs only upon completion of a treaty for world-wide atomic control with air-tight safeguards.

Gromyko last week offered a proposal for "destruction" of all finished and unfinished atomic weapons rather than for their "disposal." He drew tentative support from Britain, Canada, Brazil, China and Australia, all of whom stipulated, however, that the nuclear fuel in such weapons should be retained for peaceful purposes.

With delegates unable to agree on wording, the proposal was handed to a four-member subcommittee which was directed to report to the commission's working committee today.

U.S. sources said there were two "jokers" in the proposal. First, they said, by avoiding any direct mention of the time of such destruction, Gromyko was trying to circumvent the American plan for stage-by-stage surrender of atomic secrets and finally the bomb itself.

Secondly, Gromyko was said to be attempting to bar the possibility of the bombs being handed over to a proposed U.N. police force for use in event of aggression. By using the term "disposal" instead of "destruction," the U.S. plan left this question

Bricker Assailant Gets Sanity Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—Municipal Judge Allen K. Raedy today ordered a mental examination for William L. Kaiser, former Capitol policeman charged with firing two shots Saturday at Senator John W. Bricker, Rep., Ohio.

Kaiser is to be held without bond and Judge Raedy directed that the findings be brought to the court at a hearing Aug. 14. Kaiser now faces two separate charges in connection with the shooting, which was done in the Senate subway. One is assault with intent to kill, the other carrying a deadly weapon.

Kaiser lost his patronage job last April after 18 months on the uniformed Capitol force.

Bricker—target of two 22 calibre pistol shots that missed—did not appear at today's brief hearing.

Plan Mission Work For Years Ahead

WHITBY, Ont. (CP)—The International Missionary Council today launched discussions which will determine the course of Protestant mission work throughout the world in the years ahead. To make these decisions, vital to the future of the missionary enterprise, mission groups in upwards of 40 different countries sent more than 120 representatives for the two-week meeting here. Officials of the council said the gathering was the most representative of Protestant mission leaders ever held in North America.

Since the meeting started July 5, delegates from all major mission areas except Japan have given detailed reports on conditions in their homelands and have indicated some of the problems missionary work faces.

Before the end of the week, the meeting at the Ontario Ladies' College in this town about 28 miles east of Toronto, basing its actions on material in the first-hand reports from mission fields, will decide how to tackle tasks arising from such factors as the increasingly strong grip of Communism in areas where the Christian faith long has held sway; the postwar confusion in regions like the southeast Pacific, and the fluid situations stemming from Chinese civil war and political changes in India.

Victoria Sweet Peas Grace Mayor's Meeting

Sweet peas from the nursery at Beacon Hill Park graced the table at the civic banquet in Winnipeg given for the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities last week.

W. H. Warren, parks administrator, sent a large box of the beautiful blooms by air express to Mayor Percy George, who was attending the convention.

Today Mr. Warren received a letter from Mayor George saying that the blossoms had arrived in good condition in Winnipeg and that they excited a great deal of admiring comment from the 400 mayors and civic officials in attendance at the banquet.

Truman Asks Steel, Coal Operators To Delay Price Boost

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman appealed to United States coal and steel producers today to wait until "a fair test" has been made of the effects of the recent coal wage settlement before making price increases.

The President, in a statement, said the effect of the wage settlement "is badly misrepresented by the bare statement that it amounts to an increase of about 45 cents an hour in the wages of miners."

"It is only reasonable to ask coal and steel producers to wait until a fair test has been made of the actual effects of the wage advance under conditions of maximum production," he said.

Saying the producers of coal and steel "have been enjoying their full share of high profits," he concluded:

"I am sure that they, as responsible leaders of industry, will want to invest a portion of those profits in the maintenance of business stability and prosperity for all our people."

The President spoke of "deep concern" being expressed in many quarters over the results of the recent settlement between John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers and the coal operators. He mentioned widespread fear that it might lead to substantial increases in coal and commodity prices as well, resulting in reneuing "the inflationary spiral."

Veteran Charged With Killing Sister

CHATHAM, Ont. (CP)—Henry Leo Cada, 28 of River Rouge, Mich., was charged in court here with murder in the death of his sister, Ida Cada, 21, whose body was found today with a cut jugular vein. Cada was remanded to the county jail.

Cada is a United States army veteran.

The girl had been taking a holiday in a cottage on the shore of Lake Erie south of here. Police said the body was found in a tobacco barn on the farm of Joseph Vankerkhoven on No. 3 Highway, some 17 miles from the cottage. The jugular vein had been pierced by a pointed instrument.

No motive for the stabbing was uncovered by police, said Inspector W. A. Scott of the provincial force.

Police at River Rouge, Detroit suburb, said today that the girl was released Friday from Eloise Hospital in Detroit after undergoing shock treatment for a mental ailment. Friends there quoted the woman as having said Friday that she would rather die than go back to the hospital for further treatment.

Police said her brother was a patient in a mental ward of the Percy Jones Military Hospital at Battle Creek, Mich., until several weeks ago. They said Cada was arrested several times following threats made to his sister during periods she was out of Eloise Hospital.

France, Britain Never To Divide Says Bevin In Bastille Day Talk

PARIS (Reuter)—Ernest Bevin, British foreign secretary, in a Bastille Day broadcast from Paris said Britain and France were resolved nothing should separate them. Much had divided the two countries in the past, but there always had been an identity of policy aimed at resistance to tyranny and maintenance of freedom.

"I welcome this opportunity," Bevin said, "to speak to the French people on this, their national day—a day which has historic significance not only for France but also for the world. The fall of the Bastille and the French Revolution inaugurated a great period of freedom."

"Much divided our two countries in the days that have gone, yet, all the time, particularly among the common people, there was a great desire to achieve the same objective. This desire took different forms."

"Our development had been on different lines, and today those two lines, which, in spite of apparent differences, were really leading in the same direction, have now met. Our two countries have contributed much to civilization.

"In every task we have instinctively moulded and shaped out policies so they would result in resistance to tyranny and enable us to reach the day when the people were free from exploitation."

"Our two policies have aimed at all times at maintaining that great freedom, to lead our own lives as we please, providing we do not interfere in the lives of our fellow men; to express ourselves freely, to settle matters by reason and not by force; and to give to our peoples security."

"To our friends in France I say: Be of good cheer, the future is with those who love and live for freedom."

George Laramée Passes; Papers Record Age As 93

George Laramée, who 10 years ago claimed he had reached the century mark, died at 8.50 a.m. today in the Royal Jubilee Hospital. He had suffered a stroke July 3 while getting dressed and during a week and a half in hospital never regained consciousness.

When interviewed on his last birthday, May 5, Mr. Laramée told reporters he was 110 years old.

This morning, Mrs. J. T. Jones, in whose home Mr. Laramée lived, reported that she and an administrator had opened Mr. Laramée's safety deposit box and had found annuity papers recorded his age as 93.

Mr. Laramée went to spend a two-week visit with Mr. and Mrs. Jones, 1016 Bewdley Avenue, Esquimalt, five years ago. They liked him so well he lived with them until stricken with what proved to be his final illness.

As a member of the household he dried the supper dishes and made regular shopping trips for Mrs. Jones.

He was a French-Canadian, having been born in a small village 35 miles from Montreal. His father was an architect and his cousin was Sir Wilfred Laurier.

LATE-GEORGE LARAMÉE

Canadian statesman and Liberal leader.

Mr. Laramée was also a trapper, milper, prospector and lumberman during his lifetime.

He kept abreast with current events. Until a year ago he could see to read the paper but since that time his eyes were not so strong and he relied on the radio for news.

During the past 10 years, birthdays were always big occasions for Mr. Laramée. He looked forward to visits of reporters, wires of congratulations from government officials and the ice cream—his favorite dish.

Election, Coalition?

LONDON (AP)—British politicians talked today of a possible shakeup in the Attlee labor cabinet and speculated that a coalition government or a new general election might be in the offing. Some cabinet changes were regarded as certain.

Hamilton Pair Face Charges Of Looting Campbellville Bank

HAMILTON (CP)—Two Hamilton men appeared before a justice of the peace at the nearby Halton County town of Milton today on charges of robbing the Bank of Nova Scotia branch at Campbellville last Tuesday. The official charge against the pair brought the disclosure that the loot amounted to roughly $105,000, compared with the previous unofficial estimates of $212,000.

The two suspects—John Krywiarchuk, 36, and Tony Dececca, 29,—were remanded to July 16 by William Deans, justice of the peace.

MATERIAL WITNESS

A third person arrested—32-year-old Elsie Nash of Hamilton—did not appear. Police, disclosing her identity this morning, said she is held as a material witness.

She and Krywiarchuk were arrested Saturday morning in a tourist cabin on the outskirts of Hamilton. It was reported that police went to the cabin after getting a "hot tip." Dececca was arrested Sunday on a Hamilton street.

The charge against the two men read that they "on July 8 in Nassagawey Township did unlawfully rob Frank E. Quinlan (the bank manager) of the sum of approximately $10,000 in cash and approximately $95,000 worth of bonds, property of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Campbellville branch."

MORE ARRESTS

Here in Hamilton, investigating police said they hoped shortly to arrest two other men to wind up the case.

In Toronto, police said that a man in a stolen car who escaped after a wild police chase at the week-end was wanted in the robbery. Toronto police also arrested a second woman in the case.

According to police, a portion of the heavy loot from the Campbellville hold-up, which spectators said was perpetrated by three gunmen who wore face make-up and who were whisked away in an escape car piloted by a fourth, was found in a wallet on Krywiarchuk's person.

Island Tourists Spend Less But Resorts Filled

Visiting tourists are not spending as much money on Vancouver Island this year as last, but they are still coming, George I. Warren, commissioner of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau said today, on his return from a survey trip from Victoria to Courtenay, to get information on the flow of tourist travel, conditions of the road and general comments.

"Auto courts and resort hotels are generally filled up by night, despite the fact that there is much more accommodation this year than last," Mr. Warren said.

"U.S. Custom officials have advised me that there are far less declarations calling for $100 exemption from duty on purchases made by visitors in Canada," Mr. Warren said. "I couldn't say whether the tourists are from banks or machine shops, but there are many beautiful new cars on the road and the deluxe type of accommodation is pretty well in demand."

All first-class auto courts are generally filled by noon, he said. ROADS IMPROVING

"The roads are dusty and not good, but we notice the roads are in better condition each week, and when one considers the type of new road being constructed, one is more than willing to overlook the inconvenience of dust, etc.," Mr. Warren said.

"This is particularly applicable to roads in the Union Bay and Sidney and Nanaimo."

Secure Reservations In Advance

He said there was no question in his mind with the greater influx of tourists, that it was essential for all tourists to secure reservations in advance.

The farther north the tourist goes the less difficulty he has getting accommodation, he said, but added that reservations were still the order of the day in most places with the Publicity Bureau receiving 15 requests in the first mail this morning for reservations at up-island hotels and auto courts.

"I saw no vacancy signs on auto courts in the early afternoon," Mr. Warren said. "We make 50 calls a day for reservations."

First class auto courts in or near Victoria are generally filled up by noon, he continued.

Indication of the differences of opinion on the whole tourist situation however, can be found in the comments of two up-island auto court owners.

Mrs. Leona McFayden of the Bayview Park auto court at Parksville said she had nothing available until Sept. 1. People began making reservations Jan. 1, she said, and her 21 cabins are full and will be all summer.

On the other hand, Alec Swanson of Sunset Auto Camp at Lake Cowichan says his camps are full up on the week-ends, but are

Debate Staged On CBC Practices As Prorogation Nears

OTTAWA (CP)—A full-scale debate on CBC practices and policies blossomed in the Commons today as consideration was given to a government bill to turn over the CBC the full amount of each $2.50 collected for private license fees.

The discussion, featuring sharp criticism from opposition members, occupied most of the forenoon sitting and was adjourned by Veterans' Minister Mackenzie after T. E. Church, P.C., Toronto-Broadview, had moved that the bill be given a six months' hoist—tantamount to killing the legislation.

Resumed debate on the measure—and a possible vote on Mr. Church's motion—may come later today or tomorrow, depending upon progress in the current drive for prorogation.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said he believed privileges granted private stations were endangering the state-owned radio system and expressed criticism of the brief placed before the radio committee by the Canadian Association of Broadcasters.

He approved the revenue increase because it would help the CBC to develop and hold talent.

Mr. Church said the bill meant Parliament would wash its hands of control of the CBC and give a monopoly to its board. He thought the fees should be abolished.

J. M. Macdonnell, P.C., Ontario-Muskoka, opposed the bill on the grounds that it proposed the wrong way to raise necessary money for the CBC. He did not want to see it cramped.

He suggested an "uncontrolled monopoly" was a "bad thing" and a good reason why an independent board should be established. The matter was being ignored by the government.

Britain Cuts Tea Ration Temporarily

LONDON (Reuter)—A temporary cut in Britain's tea ration was announced in the House of Commons today by Food Minister Strachey. The cut is a result of strikes in Calcutta and Colombo.

Strachey said the tea ration—normally eight ounces a person one month and 12 ounces the next—will be eight ounces a month until mid-November.

Persons over 70 and men at sea will be unaffected by the cut.

Married Pair Made Homeless

A married couple found themselves homeless Sunday morning due to the action of their landlady.

At 10.30 the couple came to the city police station and complained that on returning home after being away for a while in the morning all their furniture and household effects were stacked on the sidewalk and the suite locked up.

"And we are paid up," they explained.

Constable Jack Mason and Alex Nichol attended, but found the landlady was refusing to speak to anyone.

The homeless couple finally made arrangements with a friend for temporary housing after the police had heard the circumstances they advised what action could be taken.

ALL DECENT PEOPLE APPLAUD

AS HISTORY IS BEING WRITTEN
these days the observations of one man, eminent statesman though he may be, will scarcely be noticed on next year's scroll. But it is fitting to place on the record a remark to which France's Premier Ramadier gave voice yesterday. It was more remarkable for its simple truth than for its political or geographical profundity. He was talking about the deliberations on the "Marshall Plan" for the economic rehabilitation of Continental Europe which began in Paris last Saturday. In a few words, he reminded the rest of the world that in this day and age, when the results of scientific research were brought under the microscope of realistic study and applied to the best interests of the people, neither the Rhine, the Oder, nor the Vistula would separate the 190,000,000 people who inhabit the Soviet Union from the remainder of this war-weary and peace-loving planet.

We have pointedly extended what we felt was in M. Ramadier's mind for the simple reason that in this year of grace, 1947, if sensible folk do not demand of their governments policies calculated to promote neighborly understanding between nation and nation, the inevitable sequel will be another war. But such an eventually defies intelligent prediction. Scientists tell us that they have delved deep into mysterious forces of which even they prefer to speak in whispers. From these frightening prospects, however, it is permissible to return to solid ground; and when we say solid ground, we quote briefly from a New York Times' reference to the beginning of the second Paris conference on the "Marshall Plan." The influential daily published in the heart of Manhattan categorically proclaims that this meeting has made history—history of which every decent person in the world should be proud. And is there any reason why intelligent folk anywhere should not hall discussions by statesmen whose object is to prevent another clash of arms between millions of young men who have no say in how their destiny shall be fashioned?

No useful purpose will be served by dilating upon the reasons advanced by the Soviet Union for its decision to boycott the Paris meeting. But when its propagandists go to considerable lengths to explain that the populations represented are largely outnumbered by those whose governments have refused the Anglo-French invitation to take part, they do not advance the totalitarian cause among the decent persons of the world to whom the New York Times so pointedly refers. What is becoming increasingly plain to all thinking people, of course, is that the Politburo in Moscow which controls the lives and conduct of some 190,000,000 persons in the U.S.S.R. deems it necessary to continue its defiance of democracy and democratic systems of government in order to try to prove to the Russian people that they have everything to lose by overturning a regime which differs in basic behaviour from that of the last of the Romanoffs only in method and degree.

UNGAINLY LOAD

HUMPHREY BOGART, WHOSE ABILITY and experience should give his words wide credibility, says the Hollywood star-machines are in need of an overhaul. They are turning out aspirants too quickly and are giving them billings they do not deserve. To be a star, says Mr. Bogart, a player has to be able to carry the burden of a picture unaided. His words will find general agreement. Many of the so-called names in the moving picture business of today will be forgotten more quickly than the forecasts on last week's horse races. But, at the same time, some sympathy must be extended to the forced-development "stars" of today who are being asked to carry a load which, if lacking weight, lacks nothing in ungainliness. A lot of the pictures now being produced hardly hold together well enough to let anyone carry them.

"LEGALLY OR ILLEGALLY"

LAST FRIDAY NIGHT IN VICTORIA'S Woodsworth Hall Mr. Harold Winch, leader of the Socialist opposition in the British Columbia Legislature, said "the C.C.F. will fight shoulder to shoulder with workers, 'legally or illegally,' who fight the iniquitous sections of the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act."

We are intrigued by the term "legally or illegally." After all, Mr. Winch is the leader of His Majesty's loyal Opposition in the provincial forum which makes the laws for British Columbia. While it is true that he and his small following in the Legislature opposed some provisions contained in what is known generally as Bill 39, they become subject to all such laws as soon as they are promulgated.

Apart from the fact that the most influential labor unions in British Columbia have no desire for the assistance or guidance of the pseudo-Socialists, since their members wisely are refraining from taking any active part in political manoeuvre, it would seem to us that the leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation is offering a species of support not likely to be welcomed by the intelligent members of the trades union movement of the province.

It is not difficult to understand that Mr. Winch, still smarting under the sting which the electors of this province administered to his party in 1945, is in the mood to stir up new economic strife—"legally or illegally"—in the vain hope of wider support when the Coalition Government under the able direction of Premier Hart finds it desirable to ask the electorate for new instructions. What the leader of the C.C.F. in British Columbia does not seem to realize is the potent fact that democratic processes can co-operate only as long as decisions reached through them by the majority are respected.

It may be recalled for the edification of Mr. Winch and his firebrand colleagues that after the late Wendell Willkie learned of his defeat in 1940, and as he surveyed the domestic and world political scene, he said of Mr. Roosevelt: "He is my President now." While this may be stretching the analogy with Mr. Winch's statement in Victoria last Friday, it would seem to suggest to the provincial C.C.F. leader that his best plan would be to recognize the basic fact that no people in such a progressive, democratic country as Canada will allow themselves to be "pushed around" by any minority group whose leader announces that he proposes to fight the majority "legally or illegally" because the operation of the law of the land does not conform to his own or his party's concept of government.

POLIO PRECAUTIONS

CONDITIONS IN VANCOUVER, WHERE the incidence of the disease has reached epidemic proportions on the basis of local standards there, give fresh importance to the precautions advocated by health authorities here to avert an outbreak of poliomyelitis. The insidious nature of the ailment is such that no safeguard should be avoided. And when doctors advocate the avoidance of over-exertion and extreme fatigue, strict attention to personal hygiene, foregoing of tonsil and adenoid operations and the consumption of only such water and milk as is known to be safe, they lay down simple rules which should not be difficult to follow.

The fact that symptoms are so general—acute headache, fever, stomach disturbance, and pain and stiffness in muscles—makes lay diagnosis difficult. These are conditions which might arise from any number of summer-time activities. Under the circumstances, however, they should not be ignored and prompt medical attention should be sought by all who note them.

Substantial advances have been made in the treatment of poliomyelitis during recent years. Much relief can now be given to cases which could not be extended at an earlier date. But this does not reduce the seriousness of the disease. It should merely stimulate greater co-operative effort between citizens and the medical profession in the preventive program that has been drawn up.

'RETIREMENT PENSIONS'

CIVIC LEADERS ATTENDING THE convention of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities in Winnipeg endorsed a resolution on Friday recommending that the current amount of $30 a month paid to recipients of the Old Age Pension be increased to $50, that henceforth these payments be styled "retirement pensions," and that all means tests be abolished. Thousands across this wide Dominion will greet this suggestion with loud hosannas. How long it will take to obtain the necessary legislation to give it legal force and effect is another matter altogether.

For a long time the means test has been a bone of contention with many senior citizens who have borne the heat and burden of the day—especially those who, by dint of hard work and scraping and scrimping, have not only raised families but have acquired their own homes. To tell them when they have reached the age at which they become eligible for a guaranteed monthly stipend that such benefits are contingent upon ownership of the fruits of their earlier labors, that they may not make "a little bit extra" to eke out what is an amount far below that requisite for decent comfort, is to make a mockery out of the whole business. And in view of the fact that the trend, ill-timed as it may be, is for shorter hours and higher wages, how can it be seriously argued that "retirement pensions" should remain largely as they were before the world found itself in the maelstrom of another global war?

At this point, of course, it is necessary for all those critics of pension legislation—the vocal ones who, for the most part, are less concerned about the fate of the nation's aged citizens than they are interested in the manufacture of political capital—to bear in mind that the additional cost inherent in the recommendation approved at Winnipeg last week must be borne by the Canadian people as a whole. If they are willing, as most of them assuredly are, to help to foot the subsequent bill, well and good. But the simple fact remains that civic, provincial, and national treasuries have but one dollar with which to meet the expenses of running the business of the Canadian public—no matter under what category it may be listed.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

DRAGONS ARE OLD-FASHIONED

THE GREAT flying disc scare is a curious commentary on our times. Even until 10 years ago, the ancient nightmares—dragons, sea serpents and their relatives—served very well. But now instead of cosy, old-fashioned Loch Ness monsters, the minds of men are haunted by the man-made horrors of the age of the absolute weapons.

The trouble is that the man-made horrors are quite real, quite imminent possibilities. And so the scare of the flying discs raises a perfectly serious question. If there is to be no peace, what warning shall we have that our enemies are preparing war?

MOST PEOPLE ASSUME that this question takes the rather simple form: "How shall we know when the Soviets have an atomic bomb?" Oddly enough, there is a way of learning of the "explosion" of an atomic bomb, even in the distant fastnesses of Siberia. It has already been tested, with American bombs at Alamogordo and Hiroshima, Nagasaki and Bikini.

As every one knows, the explosion of an atomic bomb releases a gigantic cloud of radio-active particles, which mushrooms upward into the stratosphere. Here, in the calmer upper air, the radio-active cloud remains for some time, until it is gradually dissipated or precipitated. It will be recalled how the Alamogordo cloud was by chance partly precipitated in midwestern cornfields, and ended by ruining photographic negatives whose base was made from cornstarch.

Before precipitation can occur, however, the cloud actually circles the earth, like the dustclouds from the volcanic explosion of Krakatoa. And it can thus provide the clue to the explosion of an atomic bomb anywhere on the earth's surface.

THE PRESENCE OF THE radio-active cloud in the upper air is revealed, of course, by the familiar Geiger counter, which measures radio-activity. The heavy hand of the security officers has silenced the government scientists who no doubt traced the course of the Alamogordo, Hiroshima, Nagasaki and Bikini bomb clouds. But there are also amateur physicists who have their own Geiger counters to keep check on the strength of the cosmic radiation from inter-galactic space. Their work has proved the effectiveness of this odd technique.

For example on July 16, 1945, shortly after the Alamogordo explosion, Lieutenant Commander A. R. Coven, U.S.N.R., noticed an increase in the normal rate of his Geiger counter at Annapolis, Md. The increase continued until July 18, about sixty hours after E-Minute at Alamogordo, when it had almost doubled. The next day it returned to normal. Again, in July, 1946, a couple of days after the first Bikini explosion, G. Herzog noticed a sharp rise in the rate of the large Geiger counter on the second floor of his house in Houston.

BOTH THESE occurrences have been reported in letters to "The Physical Review," together with one or two others of the same sort, and negative results from amateurs in other areas over which the clouds did not pass.

Expert, although unofficial, opinion gives these remarkable facts a simple meaning. A really adequate net of watching stations, designed to detect the presence of a radio-active cloud in any latitude, will announce the explosion of an atomic bomb anywhere on earth. As usual, since the net must be extensive, its maintenance is likely to be expensive.

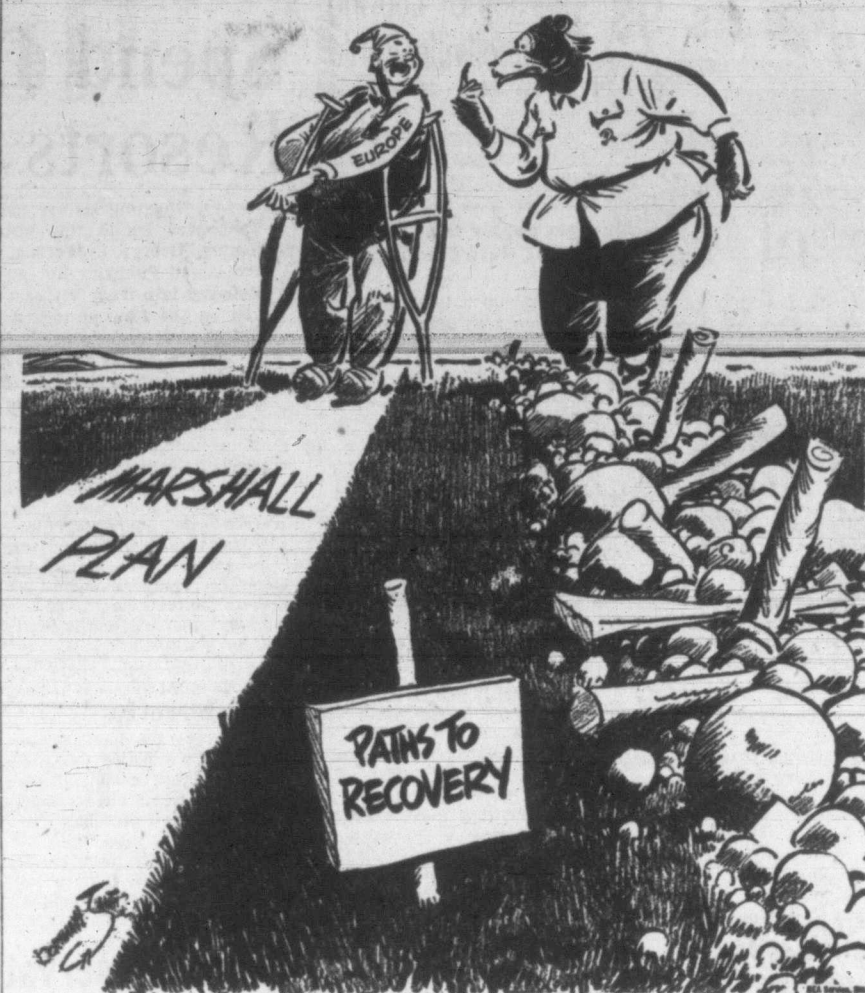

BUT THIS IS by no means the end of the story. Nothing, in the first place, will prevent a potential enemy from accumulating great stores of fissionable material and great numbers of bombs before putting his bomb design to the final test of detonation and it is only the explosion which makes the cloud. Thus the detection of an unexplained radio-active cloud in the upper air, if and when it comes, is entirely likely to be a sign that the worst is immediately at hand. Indeed, in this age of lightning attack, the worst might already have begun to occur, for the maximum speed of the clouds on their earth-encircling journey seems to be a trifling sixty miles per hour.

Against the slight reassurance, in short, must be balanced new reasons for disquiet. Diplomatic reports from Europe describe the extraordinary frankness of Soviet diplomats seeking to dissuade nations on the fence from joining the Paris conference on Secretary Marshall's plan for European reconstruction. They have warned, in effect, that in ten years the Soviet Union will have all the weapons of total destruction now possessed by this country, and that, when this happy time arrives, non-co-operators must expect to suffer.

NOR IS THIS TESTIMONY unsupported by other facts. The Soviet recruiting drive for German and other European physicists and engineers has been without parallel, and Soviet orders now overload the Swiss, Swedish and other European factories which can produce the complex apparatus needed for such plants as Hanford and Oak Ridge. Here, in the evidence of an armament race to produce weapons of total destruction, is the raw material of a world nightmare, which is merely reflected in the scare of flying discs. What is being done to exorcise or minimize this nightmare is still another vital question.

Education, Training Of Philip British

U.K. Information Office

LIEUT. Philip Mountbatten, betrothed to Princess Elizabeth, was born on June 10, 1921, at Corfu, the son of Prince Andrew of Greece, the grandson of King George of the Hellenes and the great grandson of King Christian IX of Denmark. His mother was Princess Alice of Battenburg, eldest daughter of Prince Louis who became Admiral of the Fleet, First Sea Lord, first Marquess of Milford Haven and took the name of Mountbatten. Philip Mountbatten's uncle, the second Marquess, also served in the Royal Navy like his cousin the third Marquess and his younger uncle Viscount Mountbatten. On becoming a British subject Philip also took the name of Mountbatten. He is a great-great-grandson of Queen Victoria and a second cousin of King George VI.

Under the guardianship of his uncle, then Lord Louis, he received his education in England, first at a preparatory school at Cheam (Surrey) and then at Gordonstoun, Scotland, where he distinguished himself as a good scholar with an enthusiasm for Shakespeare and as an all-round athlete, captaining the school cricket team and earning the honor of playing on the first association football team of the neighboring R.N. gunnery school. He also qualified as a Sea Scout. On leaving school in 1939 he became an R.N. cadet, and while at Dartmouth earned the King's Dirk and the Eardley Howard Crockett prize as the best cadet. In the sub-lieutenants' exam he gained nine months seniority with four firsts and one second.

WAR SERVICE

As a midshipman he served during 1940 on the battleship Ramillies, the cruisers Kent and Shropshire and finally the battleship Valiant. In the following year he was mentioned in dispatches by Admiral Cunningham for his work as searchlight control officer on the Valiant during the Battle of Matapan. In the following year he joined the destroyer Wallace, being promoted in July—the youngest lieutenant at 21 to be second-in-command of a large destroyer—and one year later was with H.M.S. Wallace covering the Canadian beachheads in the Sicily landings. After a course on H.M.S. President he sailed for the Far East as a first lieutenant on the new destroyer Whelp—acting temporarily as his uncle's A.D.C.—and was present at the Japanese surrender in Tokyo Bay. Lieutenant Mountbatten later commanded the Whelp and paid her off into reserve. His next appointments were to the training establishments Glendower and Royal Arthur. Lieutenant Philip Mountbatten wears the Atlantic, Africa, Burma and Italy Stars besides the Victory and Coronation Medals.

And Now — 'Pathanistan'

India Information

A SEPARATE free Pathan state is demanded in a resolution passed by a joint meeting of the North-West Frontier Provincial Congress Committee, the Congress Parliamentary Party, the Khudai Khidmatgars ("Red Shirts") and the Zalmi Pakhtoon (a newly-formed political party of young Pathans) at Bannu. "The constitution of the State will be framed on the basis of the Islamic conception of democracy, equality and social justice," says the resolution, which appeals to Pathans not to submit to any non-Pakhtoon domination.

The movement for a free Frontier State called Pathanistan had come to stay, said Gandhi at a prayer meeting. It was a solid movement and if it was meant to conserve, as he thought it was, the life and culture of Pathans, it deserved every encouragement.

GANDHI SUPPORT

Mr. Gandhi asked both Congress and the Moslem League to honor Pathan sentiment and let the Pathans have their own constitution for internal affairs and administration. Thus they would be better able unitedly to federate with Pakistan or the Union of India. This would be his advice whether there was a referendum or not.

Both Congress and the League, Mr. Gandhi added, were committed to a referendum in the Frontier, which was to be held immediately. It was not open to any one party to vary the terms. The issue was to be Pakistan or Hindustan. This had a sinister meaning in the context of what had happened. Were the Pathans to be with the Hindus or with the Moslems? Congress was not a Hindu organization. It never was and he hoped it never would be. But how could the Pathan mind grasp the difference in the midst of confusion becoming worse confounded from day to day?

Mr. Gandhi, therefore, advised both Congress and the League to make their position clear. Any premature referendum, he said, would be a leap in the dark.

CONSIDERATE DRIVER

One Friday afternoon recently, I was standing at the corner of the hall at Cowichan Station, speaking to a man from Duncan, when a Hudson's Bay Co. delivery van came towards us at quite a good speed.

Before reaching us, the driver had slowed down to almost a stop. I thought he was looking for somebody, but no, he leaned out and said: "The roads certainly are dusty."

When he was well past, and the dust would not bother us, he soon made good time again.

I think it was such a kind and considerate act on the part of the driver of that van. Consideration for others is the only sure sign of a gentleman.

'HOSPITALITY REPAID'

Your editorial of July 5 pays a well-deserved tribute to England's disinterested hospitality given to the oppressed of any nation. No one has ever knocked in vain at her door! Of the few outstanding nations known for their applied-Christianity it cannot be satisfactorily gainsaid that England is not the leader among them!

Although any newcomer was and is always given the freedom to retain his own way of thinking and living, as a rule he is soon convinced of the wholesome and sane customs of the people of his adopted country whose customs (without any coercion) are his own!

It is a laudable, characteristic of the English people and their government, to give equal rights to all! The armada, the battles of the Boyne and Waterloo, the two great wars were not fought and won in order to impose her own ideas and ideals but to prevent the aggressors from forcing their own exclusive will on others, and to permit the liberated nations to live according to the dictates of their own conscience!

The English people loath dictatorship no matter where it originates; be it from Russia, Germany, Italy, Spain, Portugal or Argentina!

SLEEPING SICKNESS

It is extremely gratifying to read that the Oak Bay residents' alleged fears that they might develop encephalomyelitis (sleeping sickness) from horses were dispelled by the medical health officer, who reportedly stated "that it could only occur as a result of a bite, or by an animal breathing into a man's face."

A few years ago there were many more horses about, but few people worried about contracting sleeping sickness. Let us hope that none of the worried Oak Bay residents will bite a horse or breathe into its face, particularly if it is the horse that will be carrying out those two bucks at the Willows this fall.

AS THE BATTLE of the European bloc gets under way it is producing some strange though typical tactics on the part of Russia and her satellites. The Moscow press is maintaining a violent barrage of propaganda against the Marshall economic program and the Paris conference, which it declares is doomed to failure. At the same time the Communist newspaper Pravda records that the eastern European nations are interested in getting United States credits, though directly from America and not through Britain and France. This follows the announcement by Poland, after she had turned thumbs down on economic co-operation, that she expected help from the U.S.A.

From this distance that would seem to be about like saying: "We are going to fight your economic project to a finish, but we expect you to furnish us with the wherewithal to do the job." Still, the western democracies are taking all this in stride. The door remains open for Russia and her followers to participate in the economic program.

FOR GENERAL REVIVAL

However, informed sources in Washington have made it clear that the countries of eastern Europe can benefit only to the extent of contributions they make to the general European economic revival.

Thus far the signs have been that while Russia is uneasy she hasn't the slightest intention of co-operating with the western democracies, or of allowing the members of her bloc to do so, if she can help it. That "if," by the way, is a very big one, and for two reasons.

In the first place the eastern bloc of nations isn't economically self-contained or anything like it, and it therefore badly needs co-operation with the rest of Europe. Secondly, as pointed out in a previous column one because it is a very unstable one because it is made up of liberty-loving countries which always have fought infringement of their independence. There is no doubt that Czechoslovakia and some other members of the Russian bloc are most unhappy over the trend of affairs, and want to participate in the Paris conference.

Of course, much will depend on the economic trend in Europe in the immediate future. The situation as a whole is bad, and the consensus of the experts is that things will get worse before they get better. Then the question arises of what parts of Europe are going to be hardest hit.

SABOTAGE POSSIBLE

In this connection we mustn't overlook the possibilities of deliberate economic sabotage in some countries where the battle of the isms is hot. Take Italy and France, for example. These—and especially France—are key positions, and the governments of both countries are undergoing heavy attacks from big Communist parties which have been fomenting labor trouble to further their economic recovery in these two hard-hit nations.

Meantime, down the Balkans, whelping ground of wars, the Communist onslaught to bring Greece within the Red fold has been intensified. Heavy fighting is proceeding between Greek regular troops and Red guerrillas who are said by Athens to be backed by Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria. The United Nations Balkan investigating commission in a majority report confirms this charge.

The situation is increasingly dangerous, not only for Greece, but for the general peace of the Balkans—and maybe the world.

The DOCTOR Says:

DENTAL TROUBLES STEM FROM CHILDHOOD

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

Dental neglect is expensive, but dental care is not. Most difficulties which adults have with their teeth stem from neglect in childhood.

A mother can start to safeguard the development of her child's teeth by eating a well-balanced diet during pregnancy. There are no special foods which produce superior teeth. Heredity also is a factor in determining the kind of teeth children have.

Acids produced by mouth germs which thrive on sugar erode tooth enamel. Children who are allowed to eat excessive amounts of candy and sweets may provide a favorable soil for the growth of these germs.

If a child grows up in an area in which the water contains at least one part of fluorine in each 1,000,000 parts of water, he will have teeth which will resist decay. Some of his teeth may decay, but the number of cavities will never be as great as is found in children who drink water which contains less fluorine. Experimental application of fluorine to the outside of the teeth is producing encouraging results.

DAILY CARE OF TEETH

Children should be required to clean their teeth twice a day. Two suitable brushes should be purchased for each child. The best type has two rows of stiff bristles.

Teeth should be brushed from the gum margin down to the tip of the teeth. When teeth have been cleaned inside and out and over the biting surfaces, rinse the mouth with water. Removing the excess of food between the teeth also limits the development of acid-producing germs in certain mouths.

Children should visit their dentist at least twice a year. If parents wait for toothache, the odds are against saving the tooth, even though it may be filled temporarily. Cavities should be filled when they are very small, if teeth are to be kept for later life.

Pile Sufferers

Here is a low cost, simple home medicine. It helps make it possible for you to get quick relief from the itching, soreness and burning pain of piles. It is a medical fact that piles come from causes INSIDE your body. They may need internal treatment. Hem-Roid is an internal medicine. Its medical action helps correct some of the internal conditions that cause such intense soreness and pain. Hem-Roid relieves constipation, wakes up your lazy liver and bile, eases the tormenting rectal irritation and helps heal the sore, painful pile tumors.

If you want quick and effective relief ask for Hem-Roid today at any drug store. It has helped thousands of pile sufferers. It should help you too. Try it now and see how quickly and easily you can relieve your pile misery.

Says Chilliwack Indians Underfed

VANCOUVER (CP)—Indians

at Chilliwack "still show evidence of starvation despite Ottawa statements to the contrary," George E. Fellowes (reserve) schoolteacher asserted in a radio debate here Saturday night.

Rev. Andrew Roddan, Vancouver United Church minister, who also participated in the discussion on means of raising the Indians' standard of living, urged non-sectarian education for the Indians.

Mr. Fellowes sharply criticized the Veterans' Affairs Department in handling certain Indians' cases and deplored the situation which he said existed every year when American "Scouts" took the children off in trucks to pick berries.

Use CERTO to get 50% MORE JAM or JELLY

Quick...Easy...Sure Results

1 SHORT BOIL saves time and work. To make jam with Certo you need only a one to two-minute full, rolling boil... for jellies only a half-minute to a minute.

2 YOU GET 50% MORE jam or jelly than with old-fashioned, long-boil recipes. The Certo boil is so short that very little of your precious juice has time to boil away in steam.

3 FRESH FRUIT TASTE and colour are retained in Certo jams and jellies. They taste delicious, look appetizing because the boil is too short to spoil the fresh flavor or dull the natural colour.

4 TESTED RECIPES Give sure results. See booklet under the label. Follow exactly the one for the particular fruit you are using. Certo is fruit pectin—the natural jelling substance extracted from fruit.

A pound of jam or jelly made with Certo contains no more sugar than a pound made the old long-boil way

Forest Vanishes When Meteor Falls

LONDON (AP)—A forest of 100-year-old cedars vanished without a trace in the explosion of the Sikhote-Alin meteorite, which fell in the Siberian coastal mountains northeast of Vladivostok early this year, Tass reported Saturday night from Alma Ata, Kazakh Soviet Republic.

Reporting preliminary findings of an expedition from the Kazakh Academy of Sciences, which traveled across Siberia and back to investigate the phenomenon, the Soviet News Agency said:

"The expedition came to the conclusion that the main meteorite in its fall created an air cushion and broke up on hitting it—before reaching the earth at all."

The scientists found 106 craters and holes in an area 1.2 kilometers by 600 metres (about 3/4 of a mile by 650 yards) and 250 meteorites weighing five tons in all, ranging in size from 100 kilograms to 150 milligrams (331 pounds to 1/8 grains), scattered in what they called a "rain of iron" after the blast.

The main crater was 29 metres (95 feet) in diameter and six to seven metres (6 1/2 to 7 1/2 yards) deep, Tass said.

"Near the main crater, the dense forest... had disappeared without a trace," the agency said. "Around the small craters indi-

Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—Behind the Screen: Fame is so fleeting department—A Hollywood trade paper reporter, obviously a youngster, called the Selznick publicity department and asked if there were any new castings for the movie, "Portrait of Jenny."

"Yes," said the p.a., "Ethel Barrymore."

"Oh," said the reporter, "and how do you spell that name?"

And that reminds me of the time Ethel visited the set of "The Paradine Case."

"Hi, Ethel," said an electrician.

Ethel raised a bushy eyebrow and said, "Why be so formal? Why don't you just say, 'Hi, kid?'"

Ed "Archie" Gardner has made no bones of the fact that he didn't like the first film version of "Duffy's Tavern." Talking to Boris Karloff, the screen's horror expert, Gardner said, "I made a horror picture once, too—but not intentionally."

LOST 150 POUNDS

Jolly Nellie Lane is a carnival fat lady playing a role in the movie "Nightmare Alley." And just like everyone else in Hollywood, Jolly Nellie is worried about her weight. She weighs 450 pounds. But she's telling Hollywood scribes: "Please say I weigh 600 pounds. I lost 150 pounds recently and I'm afraid my friends 'would worry about me wasting away to nothing.'"

Several years ago Frank Loesser wrote a song and thought it would be ideal for Kay Kayser's orchestra. Loesser was in California and Kay was playing a theatre in Detroit. Frank decided he'd be dramatic and called Kay on the telephone and sang it to him. Three days later Kayser recorded "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition" and it became the nation's No. 1 war song.

Frank wrote another tune. Again he thought of Kayser. This time Kay was in New York. Loesser phoned again and sang the song. Two weeks later "Jingle, Jangle, Jingle" was on wax and another Loesser-Kyser combo became a big hit.

Last week Loesser completed another tune. But this time Kay was in Beverly Hills, where Loesser also lives. However, not to break his luck, Frank called Kay and sang the song to him over the phone. Now "What Are You Doing New Year's Eve?" is a new Kayser hit with Harry Babbitt singing the lyrics.

LIVING HIS ROLE

While in New York recently Brian Donlevy dined with a friend named Arch Lawrence, who will soon be seen as General Grant in a new Broadway show. Lawrence is so intent on the role that he's actually behaving as if he were Grant, even after rehearsals. During dinner with Donlevy, he spoke like Grant and tried to act as the general would have acted. After dinner, they entered a cab and the driver said, "Where to?" Donlevy spoke up, "Grant's Tomb."

For years it's been a joke around Hollywood that Charles Foy always keeps Joe Frisco eating, no matter how much Frisco loses betting on the horses. Other night Frisco, who just opened at the Blackstone Hotel in Chicago, telephoned Foy and stuttered (as he always does): "This is Joe Fr-i-f-fr-frisco. I just got fif-fif-fifteen hundred dollars for my first week. Do you ne-ne-ne-need any mon-mon-mon-mon-ey?" Dennis Day probably will not return to the Jack Benny radio show in the fall. He has his choice of an all-musical program with Mark Warnow's orchestra or a comedy show similar to "A Day in the Life of Dennis Day."

Charter Draped—The ceremony of draping the charter was held at a meeting of Victoria Chapter No. 25, Women of the Moose, in memory of the late co-worker Emily Sparkes. Senior Regent Violet Warren presided. Following a business session a birthday party was given in honor of the senior regent. The next meeting will be held on July 23 at 902 Government Street at 7.30, followed by a court whist card game and bingo.

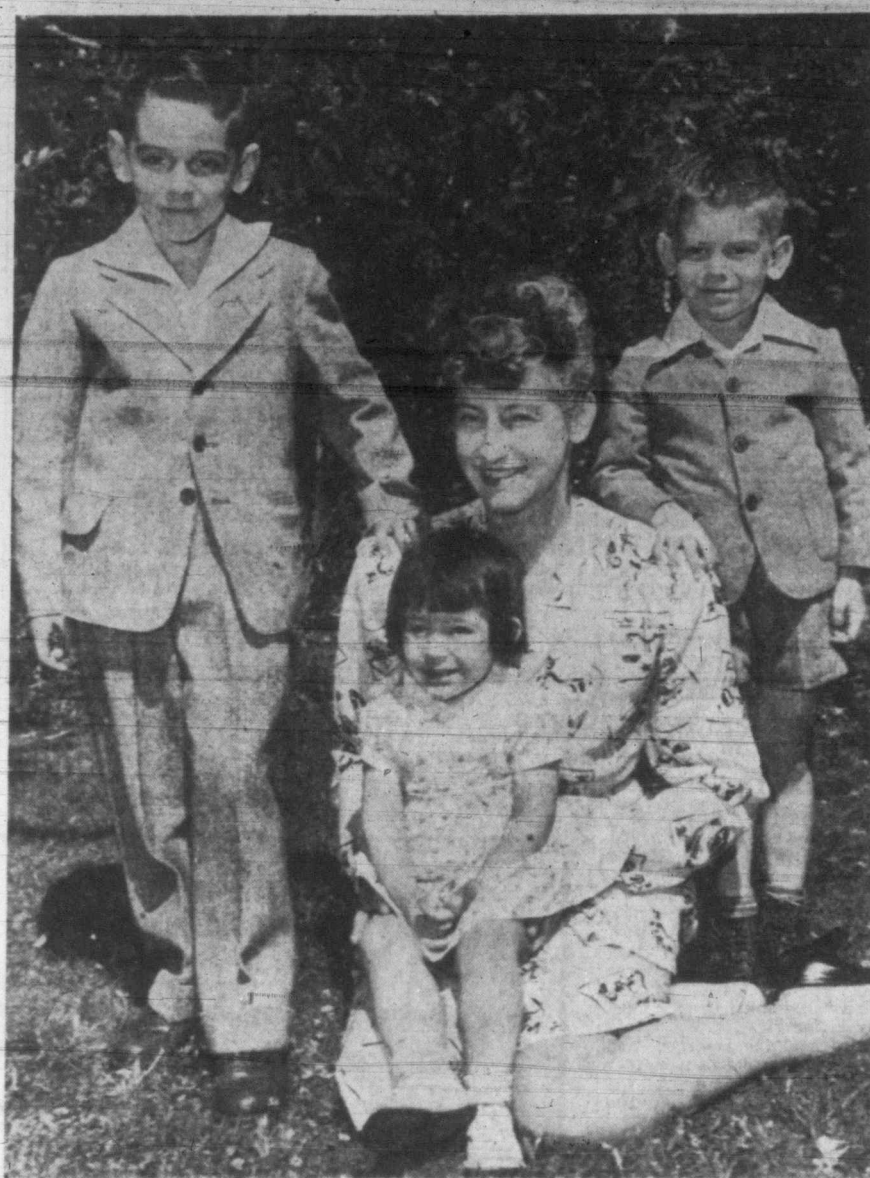

Social Situations

The situation: A woman who smokes a great deal reaches for a cigarette when there are several men in the room.

Wrong way: She holds the cigarette until one of the men notices that she needs a light.

Right way: She lights her own cigarette—unless a man who is close by offers her a light before she has a chance to do so.

From California To Spend Summer Vacation Here

Mrs. Lawrence Sheehy and her children, Evan on the right, Michael and Louise, are the guests of Mrs. Sheehy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Penzer, 2631 Cavendish Avenue. With Mr. Sheehy they motored from their home in Los Angeles to spend their summer vacation here. Mrs. Sheehy is the former Bernice Penzer, who appeared in many of Victoria's amateur dance revues of a few years ago.

Groom's Brother Performs Greenhalgh-Kirkpatrick Rites

Rev. C. H. Greenhalgh conducted the ceremony at St. Martin-in-the-Field Church last Friday at 7, which united in marriage Miss Francis Effie Wilma Kirkpatrick to his brother, Kenneth David Greenhalgh.

Mrs. Clifford Elliott, New York, sister of the bride, presided at the organ, and Mrs. James Price sang "Love's Coronation."

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kirkpatrick, 305 Gorge Road, west, was given in marriage to the son of Canon and Mrs. A. E. Greenhalgh, 3009 Colquhoun Avenue, by her father.

Traditional white satin, with full skirt sweeping on train, fashioned the gleaming bridal gown. A coronet of lace and net held the bride's embroidered veil and she wore rhinestone clips as her only jewelry. Red roses and bouvardia were showered in her bridal bouquet.

A wide picture hat of honey-colored straw and an old-fashioned bouquet of yellow carnations and purple larkspur added to the colonial mode of the aqua nylon net gown styled with bustle back, worn by Mrs. James Price, sister of the bride, as matron of honor. Miss Audrey Johnson, as bridesmaid, was gowned in a period frock of delft blue with mits to match, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Rev. W. E. Greenhalgh attended his brother as best man. Ushering were James Price and Allan Clegg.

The bride and groom, assisted by their mothers, received guests at a reception in St. Martin-in-the-Field parish hall. A three-tier cake, flanked with tall white candles and vases of sweet peas, decorated the bride's table. James Price proposed the toast to the bride.

Congratulatory telegrams were received from the bride's brother, Rev. Isaac Kirkpatrick, in Trinidad, and others from New York, Saskatoon, Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver.

Mrs. Jack Wayman, Saskatoon, and Miss Doris Kirkpatrick, Regina, presided at the urns. Serviteurs were Mesdames J. Noakes, D. Rayson, M. Robinson, G. Lock and Misses Lena Newall, Margaret Henderson, Mary Williams, and Miss Florence Kirkpatrick.

Following their honeymoon in Vancouver and at Shawnigan Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Greenhalgh will take up residence in the city. The bride traveled in a black suit with black and white accessories and corsage bouquet of Talisman roses.

'Borstal' Girls Begin Life Anew In 16th Century Home

EAST SUTTON PARK, England (CP)—A 16th century country house in this Kent town, oak-panelled with coats-of-arms adorning its walls, has become the first "open" corrective institution for young women in Britain.

The girls, ranging in age from 18 to 22, do all their own work and make their own rules of behavior. Only when they leave the 65-acre grounds, as they frequently do, are they under supervision.

The Prison Commission took over the house and estate last October and sent seven "Borstal" girls, all with theft records, to the house to "start from scratch."

The found it white with dust and its three and one-half acre kitchen garden overgrown after years of disuse. Seven volunteer teachers watched while the girls selected curtain materials and other decorations to "make a home" for themselves.

The house now is spotless, its floors gleaming, its curtains gay, its furniture well cared for. Thirteen other girls since have joined the original seven.

NO PUNISHMENTS

There are no punishments here and the only house rules are those drawn up by the girls themselves. They work happily, practically without supervision.

Mary, a red-headed Scot, paused while hoeing potatoes to remark proudly, "We had potatoes out of our own garden for dinner last Sunday." She pointed out the peach orchards, cucumber houses, mulberry bushes, pig pens and bee hives.

Each new arrival spends two months in the kitchen, laundry, sewing room and garden, and after that chooses her own work. Mary chose the garden, but says she plans to become a children's nurse when she is released this month.

In the sewing room five girls were designing, cutting and piecing together dresses, underclothes and night-dresses for themselves and other members of the community. Polly was supervising in the absence on holiday of the mistress-in-charge.

Vases of flowers stood about the house and the girls' rooms were decorated with pin-ups of movie and stage stars.

The girls may entertain village women and receive visitors.

HISTORIC MEDICAL HIGHLIGHTS—No. 11

JOHN HUNTER SURGEON

In 1754, John Hunter was a surgeon's pupil at St. George's Hospital in London. Nine years later he began his own career of surgical practice, research and teaching which was to earn him the title in history of "the father of modern surgery." There's no single, epochal achievement that marks Hunter's greatness... rather, it was his consistent discovery and establishment of scientific principles. Today, "when life hangs by a thread," many factors in favor of the patient can be traced to Hunter's work, for he was the first to make surgery a science instead of a craft.

It's reliance on scientific principles that makes our work effective, too. The years of training, skill, practice and knowledge that go into every prescription filled here assure accurate following of doctors' instructions.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix: Your column is always filled with tales of woe—love lost, gone astray, or grown old. The young speak of marriage as just something that has to happen because two people fall in love. They never seem to mention that it takes a reasonable amount of financial stability, most of all, intelligence and common sense to make a marriage that endures.

When my wife and I married, we were neither of us madly in love and we thought about it for a long time. We knew we had many differences in taste and background, but we also knew that both of us could do the right amount of changing. And we did. We brought what I call "an intelligent approach" to marriage. At the end of five years we are far more in love than we have ever could have been otherwise. We have made one grand marriage that we wouldn't exchange for all the thrills in the world, because the thrill of being together is the greatest thrill of all.

HAPPY HUSBAND:

Answer: No better recipe for making a happy marriage has ever been given than is contained in this letter. It is not too much to say: Follow this rule and you cannot fail. For the reason that so many marriages are failures is because they are founded on emotion and not on facts and reason.

Just now we are going through such a tidal wave of domestic misery as the world has never seen before—the result of the war marriages that should never have taken place. Undeveloped boys and girls married on the spur of the moment, without knowledge of what kind of husbands and wives they were getting. Mere kids married without any way of supporting a wife. Boys outgrew girl wives and lost their fancy for them. Girls who couldn't stand separation consoled themselves with lovers. Illegitimate children. Deserted wives. Divorce. The whole sordid mess of it all. And all because they made no intelligent approach to marriage.

The tart, thrilling flavor of dried apricots is ideally suited to home-made jams. Sweeten with honey and add another fruit such as pineapple for harmonious color and taste.

Frozen desserts are at their peak for spring and summer menus. Crushed canned cling peaches in a standard home-made ice cream give it a delightful fresh fruit flavor.

Australian Mammal Lays Eggs, Has Bill, Fur, Claws, Webs

MELBOURNE, Australia (CP)—Oddest of the odd assortment of animals native to Australia is the platypus, little egg-laying, hibernating mammal with a duck's bill; claws and poison spurs on webbed feet, and a fine fur peft and beaver's tail.

Once called a "water-mole" and later a "duck-bill," the platypus whose real name is Ornithorhynchus was laughed at as a hoax when the first stories of its existence went abroad from Australia about 150 years ago.

Last month, Dr. Karl Compton, United States scientist observing the Bikini experiments, visiting this country between bombs, examined a captive platypus at Healesville, near Melbourne, and commented: "More interesting than the atomic test."

Sir Colin Mackenzie Sanctuary at Healesville is one of the few places where the platypus has survived captivity.

None lived under human care for any length of time in Australia before 1933 when Robert Eadie, a patient naturalist, was able to build a "platypusary" in which about a half-dozen have been kept at different times since. It was only two years ago that Jack and Jill, a captive pair at Healesville, became the parents of a little one that has survived.

Open Newsstand In Front Of Library

The new kiosk in front of the Victoria Public Library—the first outdoor newsstand to be operated in Victoria by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind—which was formally opened Saturday morning at a ceremony conducted by members of the Victoria Rotary Club, which sponsored the project. Left to right are: Geoffrey Edgelow, Walter Fletcher, Harry Wilkinson, builder; John Armour, designer; Len Hobbs, immediate past president of the service club; Robert Dickson, operator of the stand; Alderman Mrs. Margaret Christie, representative of the City Council; Louis Michell, and Jeffrey Arnott, Rotary president.

It was not known for several years after the discovery of the platypus in New South Wales about 1800 that it was a mammal. No one was able until about 1860 to produce irrefutable evidence of aborigines' tales that it laid eggs about the size of a pigeon's.

The young platypus has teeth. The grown platypus has none. All are born with spurs on their hind feet, but only the males keep them when fully grown, using them as the chief weapon of defence.

The platypus feeds under water and at its daily meal puts away nearly a quarter of its own average weight of four pounds in worms, shrimps and grubs. Its front claws, extending beyond webbed toes, are used for burrowing long tunnels, just beneath the surface of the ground, where in seclusion eggs are laid and hatched in a few hours.

With the claws on its hind feet, the platypus combs itself dry when it emerges from the water. Swivel joints on its hind legs permit the claws to reach all parts of its body.

Dog Patrol Saves Woman In Hyde Park

LONDON (Reuter)—The Scotland Yard "dog patrol" Sunday made its 13th arrest since police dogs were introduced in the police service last year.

Jessie, one of six labradors on the night beat, captured a man in Hyde Park early Sunday morning after a woman's screams for help had attracted the attention of the animal's constable master. Trained by the army and the Royal Air Force, each dog obeys only one person, the constable who handles it.

They have been used for patrol work in Hyde Park during the last few weeks after complaints of attacks on women.

Premier Hart Takes Holiday In Jasper

Premier John Hart now is at Jasper where he and Mrs. Hart are vacationing at the Jasper Park Lodge for the next fortnight.

Vigorous and smiling happily, the Premier stepped off the train to ask about the weather and the condition of the golf course. He was pleased to find the fairways and greens were in excellent shape.

Besides golf, which he regrets he has not had much time for in the past few years, Mr. Hart anticipates taking a few trout from one of the nearby lakes.

It is also clearly evident he will not leave the lodge a stranger to the ballroom, for he questioned the manager, John Stark, closely regarding the orchestra and type of music played. Mrs. Hart, however, will not be so venturesome as, in her own words, she now leaves all the dancing in the family to her husband.

Campaign Projected To Build Cottages

Members of the Victoria Lions Club now are making final plans to launch a full-scale appeal for public subscriptions for the construction of "Sunset Cottages."

The club has plans of building a number of small but comfortable bungalows on property along the Gorge Road which will be made available to old-age couples.

The site of the building project is to be leased from the city for a token sum and it is understood the provincial government will provide a grant to cover one-third of the total cost. John B. Priestley, immediate past president of the club, has been named chairman of the committee in charge of the project.

Action against the Pirates of Tripoli

When $1 is worth a thousand

In 1804, when the United States was waging war with the pirates of Tripoli, a quantity of silver dollars was coined to pay the American sailors. These are now so rare that if you possessed one, you might get $1,000 for it.

Scarcity of money at the right moment has kept many a man and woman from taking advantage of a golden opportunity. That's why it's such a sensible idea to practise planned saving . . . to lay aside a certain amount of every dollar you earn in a savings account where it will be safe and automatically increase through interest.

Probe Mystery Of Dead Stowaway

MONTREAL (CP)—Ss. Maria G., in from Honolulu via India, tied up in Montreal harbor Sunday, a ship with a mystery which police say may turn out to be murder. She sailed from Saint John, N.B., last January and in April came the mystery—the finding of the body of an unidentified stowaway.

The Maria G. had scarcely moored here before Quebec provincial police boarded her, at the wish of the master, Capt. A. Hawkins, to investigate the suspected murder.

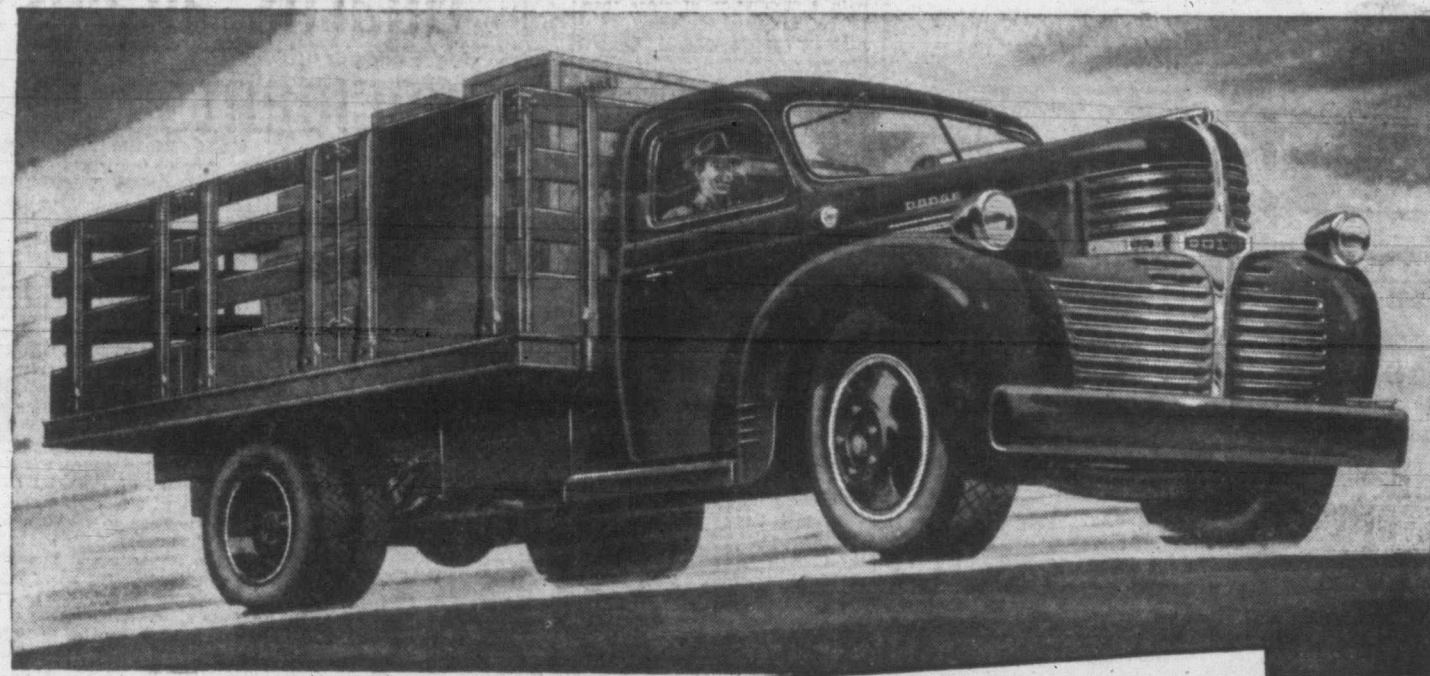

No one, to date, has come up with any knowledge of the dead man's identity. His initials might be "H. F." He was a man with "long, slender fingers and well-kept nails" whose body, wrapped in canvas, was consigned to the sea off the coast of India last April 25.

Bernard Mountain, 31, of Saint John, chief steward of the Canadian freighter, was being held on a charge of "aiding, helping and hiding" a stowaway.

"From information reaching me from certain crew members, I am certain that the man, who ever he was, had been assisted aboard my ship by one of the crew," said the captain of the

Plane Crash In Florida Swamp
Takes Lives Of 21

MELBOURNE, Fla. (AP) — Twenty-one persons were killed Sunday in the crash of a DS-3 chartered airliner in swamp wastelands near here, and today 12 remained unidentified mainly because of a confusion in Spanish names.

The death toll was expected to mount, as two of the 13 injured were on the "critical" list.

The plane, en route from Newark, N.J., to Miami with 36 persons aboard—a crew of five and 31 home-bound Puerto Ricans—cut a 300-foot swath through the scrub pine six miles from this Florida east coast town.

Similarity in the Spanish names of the Puerto Ricans, a number of whom were young children carried in the arms of parents and not listed as passengers, and the inability of the survivors to speak English, hampered identification of the dead. Two children escaped injury. One was a boy, Jose Rodriguez, three, whose mother, Pura Rodriguez, is not expected to live. She has 12 broken bones. The other child was Ellen Acevedo, five.

Besides Pura Rodriguez, the other passenger on the "critical" list is Carmen Rodriguez who has a broken back.

Among those killed were the pilot, Capt. Henry Hein, 36, of Houston, Tex., and the co-pilot, Roderick Paul MacKinnon, formerly of Rochester, N.Y.

The plane was owned by the Burke Air Lines of Miami and was licensed to carry 25 passengers and a crew of three.

Trustees Will Sell
Toronto Telegram

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto Evening Telegram will be sold on "an open market" probably within the next two years, it was announced today by C. O. Knowles, managing editor and a member of the board of trustees of the estate of the late John Ross Robertson.

Founded in 1876 by Mr. Robertson the paper has been published by a five-man board of trustees since his death in 1918. Listed as independent of political affiliation, the Telegram is an afternoon paper averaging 36 pages with a circulation of more than 190,000 daily.

Under provisions of Robertson's will, Mr. Knowles said the income from the entire estate, including the newspaper, is to be used to maintain the Hospital for Sick Children, which Robertson founded. This rider in the will came into effect upon the death of the widow, Mrs. Irving H. Cameron, who died Friday after a lengthy illness.

"It will be an open market," Mr. Knowles said. "We will sell the paper with due regard to what we believe were the wishes of John Ross Robertson and with due regard to its value."

"No one has an inside track on its purchase."

Montana Cowboy
King Of Stampede

CALGARY (CP)—Bill Linderman, long-limbed cowboy from Red Lodge, Mont., today holds the North American all-round cowboy championship and John Phelan of Red Deer, Alta., is king of the chuck wagon racers.

Both Linderman and Phelan successfully defended their titles at the 35th annual Calgary Stampede, which concluded Saturday.

For Linderman it was the fourth time in succession that he copped the honor. Phelan's victory was his second in a row.

Another Canadian cowboy, Frank Duce of Cardston, Alta., retained his Canadian championship all-round cowboy title. Duce, no newcomer to the game, built up a neat record in almost every competitive event of the six-day contest.

During the week's racing the Phelan crew piled up a gross time 7:30.04 to take $1,000 first prize money and the title of world's champion chuck wagon racers.

Slim Fenton of Cochrane, Alta., runner-up, took the $700 second place money, and Allan O'Bray of Innisfail, Alta., copped the third prize award of $500.

72,000 Hard Coal Men Next, Lewis Hints On Signing Soft Coal Contract

Best wage contract ever negotiated by John L. Lewis will add $12,480,000 annually to the pay of 300,000 U.S. soft coal miners: While mine owners were signing, Rep. Hartley, co-sponsor of the Taft-Hartley labor bill, warned contract was illegal and prosecutions might follow. Lewis, seated centre, signing contract, is reported ready to open negotiations with owners of Pennsylvania's anthracite fields in effort to arrange similar contract for 72,000 miners.

Chaplain Hid Gestapo Chief's Mistress, Saved Brother's Life

By TIM DICKSON
WHITEBY, Ont. (CP)—An army chaplain today described for the international missionary council how he sheltered the sultry, raven-haired mistress of a Gestapo chief in Belgium in his Brussels home in return for the life of his brother.

Col. Robert E. van Goethem, chief ranking Protestant chaplain of the Belgium army, said the deal was made after the Belgian beauty got him an appointment to meet the Gestapo chief: His brother would be freed if he undertook to hide the woman from fellow Belgians after the Germans quitted the city.

A pass liberating his brother was issued and in return he sheltered the woman for two months while Belgians combed the city for collaborators, he related to the 120 missionaries from 40 countries attending the council's convention.

"It was a ticklish spot to be in," said the tall, slender chaplain. "If the allies or the Belgians found her, they would have accused me of sheltering a collaborator. But what could I do?"

"Finally my brother and I went to the Belgian security officers and told them the whole story. They said to continue to hide her until the excitement in Brussels died down a bit."

But about a week later while making one of his regular tours of jails on religious errands, Col. van Goethem said he found the woman in a cell. The authorities had stumbled upon her hiding place.

Later for saving his brother's life he testified on the woman's behalf at a trial on collaboration charges and won the court's leniency.

In his conversations with the girl she seemed "very sensitive" to any reproach for the life she was leading, he said.

"So she turned over a new leaf?" he was asked.

"I don't know. The last I heard of her she was employed by the British secret service."

Gorge Loop Tracks Torn Up For Buses

First streetcar tracks to come up in the transfer from trams to buses are those at the terminus of the Gorge line.

In order to make room for the buses, which have replaced the old Gorge streetcars, to turn around the B.C. Electric Railway Co. is removing the loop at the terminus by Tillicum bridge. This is on the company property and is no part of the general scheme to take up streetcar tracks as the streetcars are taken off the streets.

To date none of the municipalities has made any definite plan to start track removal work. Both Esquimalt and Oak Bay now have streetcar tracks ready for removal as buses have replaced the streetcars.

Banning Of Jockeys Extends To Hastings Likely To Willows

VANCOUVER (CP)—Suspension of five jockeys at Lansdowne Park here will remain in effect when racing moves to Hastings Park, Aug. 6, Earle Lewis, presiding steward, announced today.

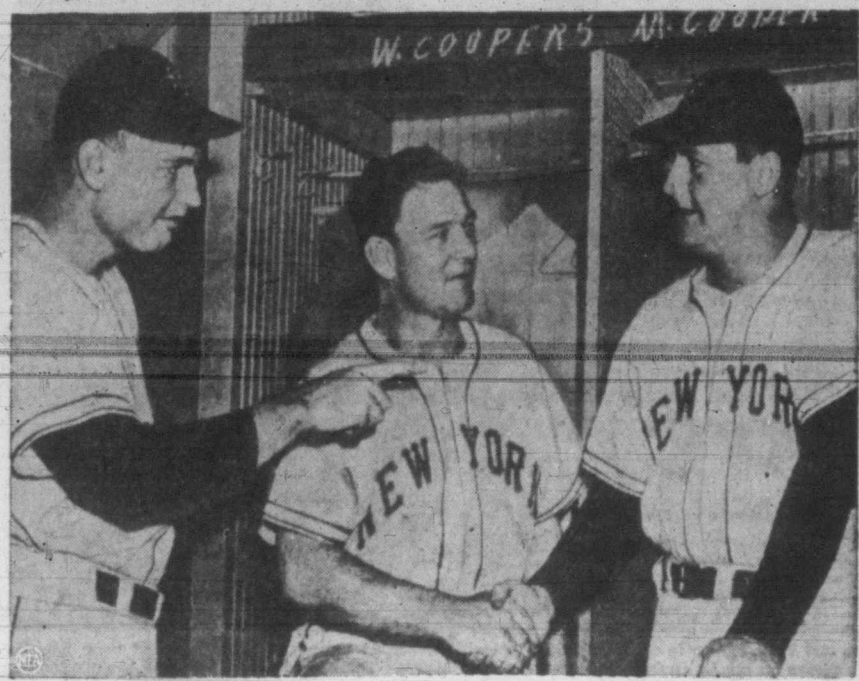

The five, Jimmy Sivewright, Emil Roy, Alex Haller, Billy Hawksworth and Harvey Duncan, were banned from racing at Lansdowne Park some time ago. A sixth suspended jockey, Vic Bovine, has since been cleared and now is riding at Lansdowne.

"The suspensions will be continued at Hastings Park," Lewis said. "I agree with the action already taken. We need a change of scenery, too."

Since the Willows track in Victoria is operated by the same group, it is considered likely that the ban will be continued there when racing opens in September.

When the suspension of the riders was announced by Al Hardy, presiding steward of Lansdowne Park, no reason was given for the action. Later, however, when Bovine was reinstated, Hardy said that "he had been cleared of certain charges made against him by persons whose reports could not be discarded."

Dodo McKay Beaten By Youbou; Eaglettes Lose To Ladysmith

Dodo McKay, ace pitcher of Mike Darling's B.C. Forest Products senior B softball nine, suffered his first defeat of the season yesterday afternoon at the hands of Youbou Wolves in the first game of an exhibition double bill between the two squads. McKay was hammered hard by the up-island sluggers losing, 17 to 2. Locals won the second game 11 to 3.

Forest Products, who compiled an enviable record in the city senior B league in walking off with the loop title, were beaten by a far better team in the opening contest, but proved their worth in the second, doing a little heavy hitting of their own, to down the Youbou team for their first defeat of the year.

Stan Tenning of senior A fame, pitched the victory in the nightcap when Eddie Dempster, Darling's other starting pitcher was hurt in the first game and was unable to play.

Lorne Roussey and Ray Fair service connected for home runs in the nightcap, while George Brown and Fair service turned in the fielding gems.

In a women's senior A exhibition Ladysmith Odeon Cubs humbled Wally Yeaman's Eaglettes 10 to 1. Ruth Oster pitched steady ball for the locals, allowing seven hits, but seven errors by her mates proved her undoing. Eaglettes garnered four bingles in the nine-inning attraction.

Tonight's senior A men's softball feature will be between Esquimalt Meat Market and Army and Navy Vets at Central Park at 6.30.

Bymeabond Takes Speed Handicap At Longacres

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Favored Bymeabond, top-weighted at 123 pounds, scooted under the finish wire a half length in front to take the $10,000 added Longacres Speed Handicap Sunday, going the six furlongs in 1:10 2/3, fastest time of the meeting for that distance.

Two Canadian entries—Neil Campbell's Pagan Star and Sam Ross' Noble King—finished only a nose apart behind the big California stake horse owned by J. K. Houssels, and piloted to victory by jockey Jack Robinson.

Such former Longacres favorites as Mouse Hole, Sir Jeffrey and Bold Impulse ended in the middle of the 13-horse field.

Bymeabond, backed heavily by the estimated 7,250 fans, returned $5.80, $4.20 and $3.30. Pagan Star paid $12.90 and 8.40 for place, and Noble King $4.00 for show.

The mutuel handle was $277,515.

Campbell Hits 150 With New Bluebird

POOLE, Dorset, Eng. (AP)—Sir Malcolm Campbell Sunday drove his jet-powered long boat, Bluebird III, at a speed estimated by engineers at 150 miles an hour in a trial preparatory to an attempt to break his own speedboat record of 141.76 miles an hour.

Sir Malcolm said the boat's excessive snaking from side to side which caused him to delay in June his scheduled attempt on the record apparently had been corrected by undisclosed modifications.

Zale Rules 7 to 5 Favorite To Repeat Win Over Graziano

CHICAGO (AP)—Boxing gloves were tossed to the sidelines today as Tony Zale, world's middleweight champion, and Rocky Graziano, Brooklyn challenger, engaged in final drills for their 15-round title bout Wednesday night.

Neither planned anything more strenuous than light-gymnasium routine with no boxing.

Graziano probably will, weight around 155 pounds to Zale's 160 when they climb in the ring in the Chicago stadium. Rocky weighed 154 to Zale's 160 when Zale knocked him out in a six-round thriller in New York's Yankee Stadium last September.

Graziano declared today that he was certain he would stop Zale in three rounds.

Zale—installed today as a 7 to 5 favorite—regards his condition as superb. He says he is in much better shape than he was for the first encounter, which he fought after a two weeks' hospital siege.

The identity of the referee will not be known officially until the boxers climb into the ring.

A surprising development was the sudden stall in the ticket sale. Promoter Irving Schoenwald said that 3,050 of the 20,048 tickets still remain in the box office racks, including 2,100 so-called ringside seats, selling for $30.

Threatening skies failed to keep Victoria's sharpshooters away from Keals Range Saturday when Jack Regan of the Canadian Scottish and Joe Gihault of the 5th Regt. tied for top honors each with a 96.

Regan's 96 was adjudged best, however, by a higher score of 48 against Gihault's 46 at the longer range despite Gihault's 50 point possible at 200 yards.

Province Selling Sternwheel Ferry

The provincial government is calling for tenders on the stern-wheel steam ferry Nasookin, purchasing commission officials reported today. Tenders will be received at the Legislative Buildings up to noon, July 24.

The Nasookin was built for the C.P.R. by a Cleveland, Ohio, shipyard and was assembled at Nelson in 1913. On completion of the C.P.R. line from Nelson to Kootenay Landing, the railway company discontinued the ferry service January, 1931. The ferry was then hired by the province, which finally purchased the vessel in January, 1933, and put it on the run between Fraser's Landing and Kootenay Bay.

The Nasookin was taken off the ferry run June 24 this year and was replaced by the modern ferry, Ansonab.

The sternwheeler is 200 feet long, has a beam of 40 feet and a depth of nearly eight and a half feet. Her gross tonnage is 1,660. She is complete with jet condensing compound engines, 1,000 indicated h.p., and has all necessary pumps and a steam lighting plant.

Open Tenders On 2 Mainland Jobs

Tenders for two mainland contracts were opened at the Legislative Buildings at noon today by acting Public Works Minister Herbert Ansonab.

Tenders for a culvert and fill to replace the bridge at Beacon Gulch on Marine Drive, Point Grey, were: Murphy Excavation Co. Ltd., $13,694; Budd's Cartage and Contracting Co. Ltd., $13,978; Holmes and Wilson Trucking Co. Ltd., $16,311; Martin Bros. and Campbell Ltd., $18,093; and Thomas Kerwin Construction Co., $18,358.

Mrs. C. J. Smith, Portland, Ore., has written the City Council urging the council to get behind the Girls' Drill Team and give it financial support. She said the team was an asset to Victoria and did much to publicize it at the Rose Festival recently held in Portland.

Pleads Guilty On 2 Counts Of Having Stolen Property

Clarence Arthur Billett was remanded to tomorrow for sentence when he appeared before Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court this morning and pleaded guilty to two charges of being in possession of stolen property.

Detective W. Richards gave the court the evidence in the two cases. Accused was charged with having a box of carpentering tools, which were reported stolen from the Gordon Head military camp in 1945, and being in possession of a pistol, the property of the New Westminster Armoury.

Magistrate Hall asked Billett if he had anything to say before sentence was passed. Accused replied that he did not know they were stolen when he got them. The magistrate said in that case he would allow Billett to withdraw his plea of not guilty and have a trial, noting that the charges read "Knowing the same to have been stolen."

Billett, however, said that he did not wish to withdraw his plea and he was remanded for sentence. Billett is awaiting trial on a charge of being in illegal possession of a car. Last week, he was sentenced to six months in jail by Magistrate Hall when he was found guilty on a theft charge and for having an unregistered revolver in his possession.

New Owners C. & C. Taxi Co. To Increase Fleet Of Cars

Sale of the C. & C. Taxi Service Ltd., 906 Government Street, to a newly-formed company for a sum of $125,000, has been announced by E. A. Calwell, former manager.

Edward Tucker, former manager of the Blue Bird Taxi Cabs, and associated with transportation services here for the past 18 years, has been appointed manager of the C. & C. Taxi Company, under the new management. John Carlow is superintendent. Bob Sinclair, who served for approximately 25 years with the old firm has been appointed "contact" man.

The sale included the bus service to Patricia Bay airport, 15 taxis, four buses, three ambulances and one mail truck. The taxi stand will still be located on Government Street, with the garage and office situated at 733 Broughton Street.

The new company has announced its intentions of increasing its taxi fleet from 15 to 20 cars. The cars have already been ordered and are expected to arrive in Victoria soon.

Five seven-passenger cars for weddings and funerals have also been ordered by the company.

First move of the new company was to reduce fares from Patricia Bay to the city from $1 to 75 cents, thus providing the cheapest transportation service to an airport in Canada.

Ron Williams, manager of the Trans-Canada Air Lines, said he did not know of any cheaper rates being charged to any airport. Fares to the Vancouver airport, a distance of eight miles, were $1, as compared with 75 cents to Patricia Bay, a distance of 18 miles, he said.

Price Of Potatoes Drops $5 A Ton

The wholesale price of new potatoes dropped $5 a ton in Victoria today, wholesalers have announced.

The price reduction of the potatoes was the same here as in Vancouver but where the mainland city also dropped the price of beets by $10 and the price of onions by $15 there were no changes on these commodities here.

The banana shortage is now in its second week. Only one carload of the fruit will arrive here this week but two are expected for the next.

Okanagan apricots are becoming plentiful and California peaches now are on the market.

Halifax Electors At Polls To Name Commons Member

HALIFAX (CP) — Party workers were up bright and early today to get the vote to polls, which opened at 9 a.m. A.D.T. (5 a.m., P.D.T.) for the Halifax by-election with a Liberal, a Progressive Conservative and a C.C.F. candidate contending for one of the federal riding's two seats.

A sea fog shrouded some of the outlying villages in the morning, but generally the day was clear and warm for the 56,924 urban and 28,315 rural voters. Polls will close at 7 p.m.

Chief importance of the by-election lay in the effect its result would have on the slim Liberal majority in the House of Commons.

Nine cabinet ministers came down here to support the campaign of John Dickey, 32-year-old barrister, who aspires to the seat left vacant last November by the death of W. C. Macdonald, Liberal, his law partner.

Progressive Conservative A. A. (Big Alex) McDonald and H. L. MacIntosh, the C.C.F. candidate, had help from their respective national party leaders in their fight to take the seat away from the Liberals, who have held it since 1935.

Following the Halifax tradition of long standing that the riding shall be represented by a Protestant and a Roman Catholic, all three candidates are Roman Catholics. Gordon B. Isnor, holder of the other Halifax seat, is a Baptist.

No Major Week-end Highway Accidents

There were no major accidents involving injuries to persons on the highways during the week-end in the Greater Victoria area, according to police forces.

James Smith entered a plea of guilty to a dangerous driving charge on George Road Saturday night and was fined $35 and had his driver's license suspended for three months by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today.

Constable Ray Matland said accused's vehicle struck a vehicle and then ran into a stone wall. The truck vehicle was driven by Joseph H. Cresby, 2942 Tillicum Road, the accident occurring west of Manchester Street. Accused told the court he was going about 30 miles an hour when he was blinded by oncoming light. Patricia Handley, 3359 Graham Street, a passenger in the Cresby car suffered a head wound and bruises.

City police attended another accident scene on the same road at midnight Saturday, in which a parked car had been struck and the car responsible had not stayed at the scene.

Curfew Aids Search For Kidnapped Men

JERUSALEM (AP) — Military rule was clamped down tonight on 10,000 to 14,000 persons in the Natanya area to facilitate the search for two British army sergeants kidnapped early Saturday by Irgun Zvai Leumi, a Jewish underground organization.

A curfew was imposed immediately, officials said, for the "first hours" of the operation. Earlier Irgun defied the British Army and police to free the two sergeants in a battle of sniping and confining as hostages for three Irgunists under death sentence.

Scores Soap Operas

OTTAWA (CP) — Radio's soap opera came in for abuse from M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, in the Commons today.

He felt like wrecking his radio, he said, "when I hear some moron drooling 'Rinso White' over the air." Such programs insulted the intelligence of the listening public.

"You can include (Frank) Sinatra in that," interrupted Thomas Reid, Lib. New Westminster, who plays the bagpipes and doesn't like Sinatra.

"Yes, I'll do that," chimed Mr. Coldwell.

Pays $15 Fine For Hitting Customer

Henry James Williams, proprietor of Dad's confectionery store, 1815 Fort Street, was found guilty of common assault on July 6, against Reginald W. Tomlinson, 2604 Richmond Avenue. He was fined $15.

Tomlinson told the court that when he went into the store to buy ice cream cones, the defendant refused to serve him when he would not first put the money for the purchase on the counter, and that when he failed to obey the proprietor's order to "stop smoking in my place," the accused slapped him across the face and then grabbed him by the throat. Doctor's evidence showed the complainant had an injured throat as a result.

Williams said that Tomlinson blew smoke in his face and that he warned the complainant not to do it again or he would slap him in the face. Accused said Tomlinson deliberately blew the smoke in his face again "and I slapped him on the face." Accused said he only grabbed Tomlinson by the throat to prevent being hit, "because he came to ward me with his arms flailing." Williams said, in reply to a question from city prosecutor C. L. Harrison, that he asked all his customers for their money first in serving ice cream.

Magistrate Hall noted that Mrs. Williams, who also gave evidence, had not mentioned anything about the complainant's "flailing arms." He said he accepted Tomlinson's story and considered the action of the defendant a show of bad temper.

Olsen, about 45, found dead in her room in the Delhi Hotel, Yates Street, Friday morning, were from natural causes.

Fishermen Waiting For Word On Tuna

A few local fishermen were reported today to be on the lookout for schools of tuna which are expected to be on the run earlier this year. The main fishing fleet, however, was still awaiting word on the movement of the species before switching from salmon to tuna.

Fishing officials said tuna would start running up the coast earlier this year because of the good weather. The usual season for tuna is towards the end of July, but this year they are expected in a week or so.

Fishing for coho has been extremely good during the past two weeks, according to officials of the Kiyuquot Trollers Co-operative Association which predicts record catches this season.

"Salmon, like all other species started to run earlier than usual this year," one official said. "Usually the coho season is at its best towards the end of July. This year, however, we started to make record catches around July 1."

When tuna season starts, the majority of salmon trollers are expected to change over to tuna fishing, he said. But fishermen will not start until the species was sighted off the coast of Washington and Oregon.

Studio Keeps Word On Diversified Roles

Constance Moore didn't want to be "typed" when she signed her Republic contract. One of the conditions of the agreement was that Connie was to play roles as diversified as the facets of her own personality—and the studio is keeping its word.

In "In Old Sacramento," opposite William Elliott, Connie was prim and demure and romantic as a belle of the 1850's while California history was being made.

In "Hit Parade of 1947," which opens tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre, she is modern, debonair, though every bit as romantic, in her portrayal of the cafe singer who is tapped for Hollywood.

Connie has a suave and cosmopolitan brand of charm, which belies the fact that she was Iowa born.

Eddie Albert plays opposite Miss Moore in "Hit Parade of 1947." Also starred are Joan Edwards of the Hit Parade radio show, Gil Lamb, Bill Goodwin, Woody Herman and his orchestra and Roy Rogers and the Sons of the Pioneers.

Pidgeon May Solve Enigma Of Swallows

Although it has been a mystery for 167 years, Walter Pidgeon is going to know where the swallows go when they leave Capistrano!

When they departed from the ancient mission at San Juan Capistrano recently, six of them carried tiny sterling rings on each leg engraved with the actor's initials.

The star of "The Secret Heart," now being shown at the Oak Bay Theatre, requests that anyone who finds a swallow with such a mark write him at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio telling where the bird was found.

Departure of the swallows each year on Oct. 23 and their return on March 19, as well as their destination, has been a matter of world concern for more than a century and a half.

The farmers around the little town of Liberal are facing ruin owing to the destruction of their crops by herds of cattle being driven across the farmlands by lawless trail drivers on their way to the railroad, lawlessness has reached such a pitch that the farmers are beginning to pull out, relinquishing their lands to the crooked element who have taken control of the town.

Those who remain ask for help from "Bat" Masterson, famed U.S. marshal, who comes to Liberal and starts in to clean up the place. There is a climatic battle for the town before law and order are finally established.

CAPITOL THEATRE

One of the most widely-known courtrooms in the United States was used by Twentieth Century-Fox, recently, for the filming of "Boomerang!" which stars Dana Andrews, and now is showing at the Capitol Theatre.

It is the same Westchester County courtroom, located in White Plains, N.Y., in which Harry K. Thaw was tried for the murder of Stanford White in 1910. This probably stands as the most celebrated murder case of the early 20th century.

Producer Louis de Rochemont used the White Plains courtroom to re-enact the climax of another famous case. The story of "Boomerang!" is based on the actual murder case, the outcome of which created a national sensation, and brought to the fore a state's attorney who placed greater value on the life of a man than he did on his own political career. Dana Andrews portrays the state's attorney who later rose to a high position in the national government.

Says Canada Better Able To Avert Slump

GENEVA PARK, Lake Couchiching, Ont. (CP)—Edward Lindeman, professor of social philosophy at Columbia University, New York, said today that Canada is in a much better position than the United States to avoid another depression because of the "farseeing administration" of its government.

Here to address about 200 delegates to the C.C.F. Summer School here, Dr. Lindeman said in an interview the Canadian government "deserves a lot of credit for the leadership it has given." He said the government's social measures formed the backbone of its anti-depression moves and Canadians today "know

Cartoon Movies Have Their Own Profit Timetables

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—As an investment, the cartoon feature picture is getting to be like a tool bridge—You are sure to get your money out of it if you wait long enough. That can be gathered from the words of Walt Disney.

The economics of the movie industry are enough to make a business administration professor turn in his cap and gown. And trying to figure out the wherefores of cartoon profit-making might cause him to blow his top. For instance, it might be 10 years from the moment an idea pops into Walt's head until the time the finished picture picture shows a profit.

As the cartoon wizard pointed out, an ordinary movie can show a profit within a year of its conception. Four months of shooting, two of editing and printing and a half-year in the theatres can put a film in the black.

"Now we have to depend on a reissue for a profit from cartoons," said Disney. The timetable of a feature reads something like this: preparation—one and a half years; drawing—two years; release—three years. Then it is withdrawn for two years and reissued. By that time it starts paying off.

"ALICE" TWO-YEAR JOB

Disney will throw his whole staff into work on "Alice in Wonderland," his first postwar superspecial, and even so, production will require two years, maybe more. The picture's cost, now estimated at $3,500,000, may be a long time coming back.

Disney's business flourishes in times when moviegoers are discriminating and are concerned more with quality entertainment than the sure-fire formula movies that have crowded the screens in recent years. Not that he wishes for a theatre slump, mind you, but he isn't afraid of it.

"I don't mean that everybody likes cartoons," he smiled. "Some people can't stand them. There are times when I can't stand them myself!"

more social security than citizens of any other country."

BAKE'S TOP NOTCH

DOUGLAS 81 PRINCESS E 1034

Youngest Rank Star On Plaza Screen

Jean Simmons is the youngest "starlet" of the J. Arthur Rank organization, and, although only 16, she has already had several screen parts.

Her first ambition was to teach dancing, and because of this her mother sent her to the Aids Foster School in Golders Green. Mrs. Foster soon realized Jean had unusual talent and so, when she was asked to send a little girl to the studios for a part in "Give Us the Moon" with Margaret Lockwood, she took Jean. As soon as her work in this picture was seen by producers and directors, other parts followed rapidly.

Following her role in "Great Expectations," now being shown at the Plaza Theatre, she was signed up for her first adult part—to star opposite Sabu in "Black Narcissus."

ROYAL THEATRE

Alexis Smith and Zachary Scott features an excellent cast of supporting players including Peggy Knudsen, Patti Brady and Angela Greene, in "Stallion Road" now at the Royal Theatre.

The screenplay, based on Stephen Longstreet's best selling novel has been adapted into a love story of great warmth.

The story tells of the horse breeders who raise their blooded mounts on the slopes of California's Madre range, and of a romantic triangle that set the range breeders buzzing with gossip.
